Pyx Health®
Because no one gets better alone™

Mission: Pyx Health is on a mission to help people suffering from loneliness and social isolation, the root cause of myriad physical and behavioral health issues impacting Americans today.

We deeply understand the negative effects of loneliness on mental and physical health and passionately champion an audacious goal: To tackle loneliness, where it matters most, for everyone who needs it.

Pyx Health is the leading social health platform solving loneliness. This safe, scalable program seamlessly integrates compassionate humans with technology to identify, engage and support users in need. Data-driven insights and empathetic peer companion mentoring enable Pyx Health to eliminate social barriers to health and build deep relationships to address health and social needs. Providing an antidote to loneliness, Pyx Health creates a ripple effect across healthcare cost, quality and utilization. Visit pyxhealth.com. Because no one gets better alone.
